Koala FUN FACTS

- Although sometimes called “koala bears,” they’re not bears at all – they’re marsupials
- Koalas’ strong, clawed feet are perfect for climbing eucalyptus trees
- Just like people, koalas have individual fingerprints
- Koalas have 3 “fingers” and 2 “thumbs” on each hand to help grip branches
- Koalas can sleep up to 18 hours a day

- Walkabouts – walk around your neighborhood to sell cookies; by yourself or with your Girl Scout sisters. Remember ONLY walkabout in your neighborhood. (should NOT be conducted in parking lots, malls, or other areas where one can be escorted off property.)
- Cookie Stands – lemonade style stand in front of your home (not on a dirt lot or area deemed unsafe for girls.) Please make sure that you have permission in order to have a lemonade stand in front of your home.

Ways to Sell (con't...) :

- Virtual Cookie Booths – Using a troop leader or caregiver account for safety, set up a virtual cookie "booth" to bring customers to you on Facebook Live, Google Meet, Zoom, or etc.

- Workplace Sales - Girls can either make sales pitches to local businesses or go with a caregiver to their workplace to take orders.
- Girls 13+ years & older can use social media to promote their cookie business

Ways to Sell (con't...) :

- ## Cookie Booths

Having permission from businesses to sell cookies at their storefront. Girls in the troop will work together to sell cookies to help fund their Girl Scout activities.

>TPCs will select booths for their troop during the booth selection rounds. And then organize a sign up for the girls in the troop to sign up to help sell cookies at a booth.

>Girls and Adults should ALWAYS follow the Girl Scout Promise and Law while working a cookie booth. It is a privilege to be selling at a business. Poor behavior can jeopardize the opportunity to conduct booths at any location in the future.

Booth Etiquettes:

- Start and end on time. Start prepping to close down about 10 minutes before the booth ends. Be respectful of each other's booth times.
- A minimum of two adults and two Girl Scouts (maximum of 4 girls) must be present at all times during troop booth sales. (Exception for Cadettes-Ambassadors; can be 2:1 or 1:1)
- Girls AND adults should wear Girl Scout appropriate attire (preferably, uniform vest/sash or troop t-shirt.) Always wear the Girl Scout membership pin.
- Siblings and pets MUST be left at home. Tag-a-longs (non-registered Girl Scouts) are not allowed at a booth sale.
- Do NOT block store entrances or exits. Customers should be approached only upon exiting the store. Abide by store rules!
- Leave your area clean by taking trash bags and taking your empty cardboard cases with you. Do not leave them at the store or in the store's trash cans. Remember, Girl Scouts Leave No Trace!
